

Use colouring pencils or the letter code to plan your own secret message. When you have finished turn your message into crumble code blocks and see if someone else can decipher (work it out) by just watching the lights. Put the message in a forever loop disconnect the USB cable. How far away can it still be read? What is the quickest wait period between letters?

Secret Message Planner

Name _____

Class _____

